

Commended Entry Certificate

awarded to

Linda Lamon

for the song

The Badger & The Wren

This is to certify that "The Badger & The Wren" was a Commended Entry in the Open category in the UK Songwriting Contest 2014. This song was carefully examined by expert music industry judges and they have awarded Linda Lamon this certificate for participating in the contest in 2014 and for contributing to its continued success as a leading international annual songwriting event.

The UK Songwriting Contest was formed in association with The BRIT Trust and other music industry organisations. It is held annually with support from some of the biggest names in the UK and international music communities.
